A LETTER from Our Board Chair and Our President

When 2020 began, no one could have imagined what would unfold over the course of just one year. We were looking forward to celebrating the opening of the Tanger Center and had to pivot quickly into relief efforts to help our community cope with the effects of a virus none of us had even heard of.

We are so proud of the Community Foundation's leadership in responding to the wide-ranging effects of COVID-19, as well as the issues of inequity and injustice that were brought to light across the country and in our own community.

Our ability to nimbly and thoughtfully respond to community needs in times of crisis is a direct result of the trust that you, our donors and partners, place in us. Your support is greatly appreciated.

HERE ARE A FEW OF OUR COLLECTIVE ACCOMPLISHMENTS FROM 2020:

- We worked with the City, United Way, Greensboro Chamber of Commerce, Greensboro Merchants Association, and others to address unprecedented challenges caused by COVID-19. Together, we raised over $2.5 million dollars for the Emergency Response Fund and, with additional CARES Act funds awarded to Guilford County, were able to successfully meet most of the nonprofits' needs.
- We launched a major new initiative, Black Investments in Greensboro (BIG) Equity Fund, which raised over $1 million in just six months. This is the largest effort of its kind in the country and is only just beginning.
- We connected with donors in new ways and achieved new levels of engagement through our "Adaptive Philanthropy" webinar series.
- We made grants of over $21.5 million to area nonprofits and close to $12.9 million to the City for the Steven Tanger Center for the Performing Arts, which completed our $42.5 million commitment. We are looking forward to opening the Tanger Center later in 2021.
- Lastly, 2020 exceeded all expectations—in a positive way—with total contributions of close to $80 million. Our assets are approaching $300 million for the first time in our history, which speaks to the generosity of this community, and close to 70% of those assets are permanent. We were founded in 1983 with a vision to create a permanent resource for this community and for individuals to entrust with their dreams of leaving a legacy. The gifts we received this year are a clear message that we are meeting that goal.

We know that 2021 will not be without challenges, but we look forward to addressing and overcoming those challenges. Together, we will make a profound impact that will be felt for generations to come.

Sincerely,

Anita Bachmann
Board Chair

H. Walker Sanders
President

Year in REVIEW

Estate gifts to the Community Foundation allow donors to ensure their legacy lives on in the community and with organizations they hold dear. Depending on how the gift is structured, it might also provide philanthropic opportunities and tax benefits to their heirs.

The bequests made to the Community Foundation in 2020 were the most generous of any single year in the history of our organization and will surely have a substantial impact on the quality of life in our community for generations to come.

LEGACIES Realized

There were many thoughtful bequests made to the Community Foundation in 2020. Here, we share the stories of three people whose bequests will make a significant impact on the lives of Guilford County residents—of all ages, backgrounds, and interests—for generations to come.

Our founders envisioned an organization where people felt confident investing in their community. These gifts demonstrate how individuals can have a variety of their interests met by giving to the Community Foundation. We celebrate their lives and legacies and extend our heartfelt gratitude for their generosity.

There has never been a more important time to invest in your community, and bequests are an example of how best to do this.

CHARLES L. "BUDDY" WEILL, JR.

A native of Greensboro, Buddy enjoyed a successful career in insurance and real estate. He owned and operated Weill Investment Company and served as President and CEO of Robins & Weill, Inc., which his father had founded in 1911. Outside of work, he was an active member of the real estate industry, higher education, healthcare, and charitable organizations based in Greensboro and North Carolina, often serving in leadership or officer positions within several at the same time.

Among many notable achievements spanning his nearly 96 years, Buddy would be the first to tell you that helping establish Well•Spring, A Life Plan Community was one of his proudest. He played an instrumental role in bringing this visionary service organization to life and served as a trustee and chairman for Well•Spring, before eventually moving there to live out the remainder of his days in the community he once described as "a magnificent haven for people in later years."

Having served on the Community Foundation's Real Estate Management Committee and as a former director of its Board of Directors, Buddy was keenly aware of how the Foundation could help him leave a legacy of supporting care for the elderly population in Greensboro. With no heirs at his passing, Buddy left the Community Foundation a generous bequest for the expressed purpose of creating a permanent field of interest endowment—the Charles ("Buddy") Weill Charitable Fund. This fund will award grants for capital expansions and improvements of facilities that support eldercare and healthcare.

"Buddy trusted the Community Foundation of Greater Greensboro to manage his endowment. And by leaving his bequest to the Foundation, he was able to keep the money at home— where it could have the greatest impact in his hometown and in the community that he loved so dearly."

GENERATIONS of Caring

ROYCE O. REYNOLDS

Upon moving to Greensboro in 1973, Royce purchased a single Pontiac dealership which he grew into Crown Automotive, a group of 14 dealerships across North Carolina and Virginia. As his wife, Jane, says, "We were very blessed in our business and wanted to give back to the community to take care of the less fortunate."

Royce gave back to the community through a number of avenues. He was a highly active member and generous supporter of the Methodist Church, its missions, and outreach programs. He was also actively involved with the Boy Scouts. As a high schooler, he earned his Eagle Scout rank and was later presented with the Distinguished Citizens Award by the Old North State Council of the Boy Scouts, which named their district headquarters in his honor. Royce was also very involved in the Community Foundation, serving as a Board member and relying on the Foundation's expertise to assist him and Jane in their philanthropic pursuits.

During his lifetime, Royce and Jane had a donor-advised fund that created named endowments for Greensboro Urban Ministry and the Salvation Army. At his death, Royce left a named estate bequest to the Community Foundation to add to his existing endowments and create a new endowment for the Old North State Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

GENERATIONS of Leaders

"Philanthropy has always been an important part of our lives. By creating these funds with the Community Foundation, we are able to support organizations that embody our Christian values and continue Royce's calling to help lift people out of their situation."

Jane Reynolds
Widow of Royce O. Reynolds

BARBARA CANNON KRETZER

Born and raised in New Jersey, Barbara moved to Greensboro in 1977. Here, she dedicated herself to raising two children while her husband, Bill, advanced in his career to become President and CEO of Unifi, Inc. Bill's early retirement in 1999 was the beginning of a new chapter in their lives, one which they hoped would give them a chance to spend more time together and enjoy their newly empty nest.

When Bill died suddenly of a heart attack less than two months into retirement, Barbara was faced with writing this new chapter alone. Once she got over the shock of Bill's death, Barbara wrapped her arms around the community which had become her home, getting more involved with Greensboro causes than ever before. Philanthropy became a large part of her focus.

Her passion for supporting the arts in Greensboro was renowned. As her friend, Susan Lowe, put it, "Not just maintaining, but growing the arts in Greensboro." Barbara was an early supporter of the Public Art Endowment at the Community Foundation, as well as GreenHill Center for North Carolina Art, The Carolina Theatre, Triad Stage, and ArtsGreensboro.

Her friend, Carol Schenck, said, "Barbara had grown to love Greensboro so much, and she tried to give back to the town what was given to her."

Upon her passing in 2020, Barbara left her IRA to the Community Foundation. Per her wishes, it will be used to create two donor-advised funds, with her children named as the advisors, ensuring that her love for this community and legacy of philanthropy carry on.

"Bill and Barbara, they both shared a desire to give back. They didn't come from wealth. They were salt of the earth people who took care of others in quiet ways."

Susan Lowe

Longtime friend of Mr. and Mrs. Kretzer

Strategic INITIATIVES

BLACK INVESTMENTS IN GREENSBORO (BIG) EQUITY FUND

Founded in 2020 amid challenges that made it a more timely and relevant need than ever, the Community Foundation's Black Investments in Greensboro (BIG) Equity Fund is an endowment that seeks to address educational, health, and other disparities that exist in the Black community, while acknowledging the concerns of today's social justice movement.

As a Black-initiated, Black-led, and initially Black-funded endowment, BIG Equity Fund will be a sustainable means for the Black community to make a significant impact on the lives of people in Guilford County today as well as to create a multi-generational legacy.

Already, the success of BIG Equity Fund is proof that the desire for a philanthropic vehicle like this is strong. The Fund far exceeded its initial fundraising goal to secure over one-third of the overall endowment in just six months. Once the full endowment amount of $3 million is reached, the Fund will be able to start making investments in the Black community, closing the divides and enabling more residents of Greensboro to achieve their dreams of education, business ownership, access to quality healthcare, and more.

"We need to be able to put financial resources into the game to be able to level the playing field so that kids that live in Greensboro have an opportunity to become educated, have good health, and actually achieve their best lives as opposed to fighting to survive."

The global pandemic caused disruptions in our community across nearly every aspect of life without any clear end point. Learn how the Community Foundation's initiatives pivoted quickly to provide relief in a variety of ways.

BUILDING STRONGER NEIGHBORHOODS

Building Stronger Neighborhoods (BSN) offers grants to help neighborhood groups who need that extra financial boost to start their project or program aimed at improving quality of life in neighborhoods across our community. The program is powered by the BSN Coalition: Cemala Foundation, Community Foundation of Greater Greensboro, Cone Health Foundation, and Greensboro Public Library.

In response to the pandemic, BSN provided rapid response grantmaking for emergencies, coordinated PPE distribution to neighborhood groups around the city, hosted vaccine and food access sites, and provided technical assistance to neighborhood groups shifting to meeting virtually.

EXPANDING COMMUNITY GIVING

An extension of our efforts to advance diversity, inclusion, and equity, Expanding Community Giving (ECG) fosters philanthropy in communities of color, honors local philanthropists of color, engages donors around issues that matter most to their community, and offers new ways of giving for people who share common charitable interests.

Thanks to a W.K. Kellogg Foundation COVID-19 supplemental grant, ECG was able to grant $37,500 to ten Greensboro nonprofits that provided immediate relief in the form of rental assistance to prevent evictions, access to COVID-19 testing, hunger relief, support for a remote learning site, and support for families with special needs. Additionally, five giving circles formed and funded by donors of color made $15,000 in grants to local nonprofits to support families incurring job losses, support for a child development center, a community collaborative to offer COVID-19 screening sites, and relief and recovery responses for two Asian-American-led nonprofits serving immigrant communities.

FUTURE FUND

Led by young professionals who invest their time, energy, and charitable dollars into improving our community, Future Fund nurtures the next generation of philanthropists through social, networking, and charitable events while also awarding grants to nonprofits that are making an impact in Guilford County.

Early in the pandemic, Future Fund pivoted their signature Future Fund 10 LIVE event to a fully virtual production. The event captured over 1,800 viewers who learned about 10 local nonprofits and voted to award over $45,000 in grants to assist them on their projects. Future Fund also evaluated the diversity of their current membership and partners and has been taking steps to ensure members reflect the demographics of the Greensboro community.

GUILFORD NONPROFIT CONSORTIUM

This is a collaborative of nonprofit organizations, large and small, that fosters mutual assistance and support in overcoming challenges and achieving our shared goals by providing opportunities for education, collaboration, networking, and celebration. The Consortium is guided by a Funders Collaborative including these Foundations: Community Foundation of Greater Greensboro, Weaver Foundation, Cone Health Foundation, Cemala Foundation, Foundation for a Healthy High Point, Hayden-Harman Foundation, Reich Family Foundation, Bryan Foundation, Lincoln Financial, Congdon Family Foundation, and High Point Community Foundation.

In 2020, local nonprofits stepped up quickly to address the intersection of the pandemic, social justice, and economic challenges. The Consortium supported nonprofits with critical information on accessing CARES Act funding and other local grant resources, while assessing nonprofits' immediate needs and long-term financial impacts, providing consultation to 144 local nonprofits, and matching 25 nonprofits with professional coaches who provided pro bono technical assistance as these organizations adapted to meeting, working, and collaborating virtually.

HOUSING

In partnership with the City of Greensboro and other key stakeholders, the Community Foundation's housing efforts are focused on convening, grantmaking, and advocacy with the goal of leveraging resources to help shape a shared vision for successful, sustainable, and affordable housing for all residents.

The Community Foundation's housing efforts supplied strategic grants for pilot projects in pandemic response, including Greensboro Urban Ministry's Shelter Diversion Pilot, which uses hotels rather than placing those seeking a bed directly into congregate shelters. This allows people to quarantine as needed, ensuring they are COVID-free before moving to shelters or other housing. While in the hotels, individuals work with case managers to identify specific needs and are referred to programs that can provide services, job opportunities, and housing.

PUBLIC ART ENDOWMENT

One of the only privately funded endowments in the nation created solely to bring public art to the community, the Public Art Endowment (PAE) helps preserve and expand Greensboro's sense of community by facilitating the long-term and permanent placements of significant public artworks throughout the city.

In September 2020, the PAE helped sponsor a temporary mural at LeBauer Park by artist Darlene McClinton in honor of the "2020 National Day of Dance GSO." This mural was designed to prompt movement experiences through design elements that inspire a dance response—something that families visiting the park could do together while getting outside and practicing social distancing.

TEEN GRANTMAKING COUNCIL

Teen Grantmaking Council (TGC) provides an opportunity for high school students to gain leadership experience, connect with other area youth, voice their opinions, and make a difference by deciding which youth-directed projects will receive grants in order to address community issues.

In 2020, TGC members determined the focus areas where they could make the greatest impact, with those being: food insecurity, mental health, and discrimination. And, in response to the pandemic, grants were made available for the first time to youth-serving organizations, not just youth-led groups. By early 2020, TGC approved grants to seven groups totaling more than $10,000.

WOMEN TO WOMEN

Women to Women (W2W) awards high-impact grants to programs, organizations, and projects that aim to support, protect, and empower the more than 40,000 women in our community who struggle to put food on the table and keep themselves and their children safe and healthy.

W2W worked with community partners in a coordinated emergency funding approach for 2020. In place of the typical grants process, W2W approved a grant of $75,000 in March to the Emergency Response Fund, helping women and their families who were impacted by the economic consequences of the pandemic. In place of the annual Celebration Luncheon in October, Women to Women (W2W) hosted a Non-Event that allowed individuals and corporations to make direct contributions to the initiative for the month of October, raising an additional $75,000 to match the initial grant for a total contribution of $150,000.

WORKFORCE INITIATIVES

Eastern Triad Workforce Initiative

This initiative brings together employers, chambers of commerce, schools and community colleges, and other stakeholders to provide apprenticeship and on-the-job training that meets employers' needs, prepares young people for in-demand careers, and enables workers to secure better-paying jobs.

Guilford Apprenticeship Partners

A collaboration between the Community Foundation, chambers of commerce, Guilford County Schools, Guilford Technical Community College, and more than 30 local companies, this initiative gives rising high school seniors and recent graduates an opportunity to further their education debt-free while gaining paid work experience.

Say Yes to Education - Guilford

This nonprofit helps public school students in Guilford County get the support they need to graduate from high school and be ready for post-secondary success—starting with the youngest learners and continuing until students graduate from college or a post-secondary certificate program.

In 2020, Workforce Initiatives kicked off Guilford Jobs 2030: 10 committees met over six months to develop and distribute surveys to identify workforce and training needs in key industries, hold focus groups to determine barriers to post-secondary education, and to develop an equity statement and metrics which will guide the investment of all resources countywide.

In addition to the Initiatives' responses to COVID-19, the Community Foundation took on several special COVID-related projects in 2020. The Virus Relief Fund Task Force, co-convened by United Way of Greater Greensboro, City of Greensboro, and the Community Foundation of Greater Greensboro, raised and distributed over $2.5 million for immediate relief efforts and advised the Guilford County government on the disbursement of $3 million of federal CARES Act funds.

Early in the pandemic, the Community Foundation offered Zoom licenses at no cost to current grantees and nonprofit partners to continue operating virtually. Later, with a grant from the Phillips Foundation, the Community Foundation created a revolving loan fund with Piedmont Business Capital to provide loans for eligible nonprofit organizations and social enterprises recovering from the challenges of COVID-19. The Community Foundation also contributed toward the Guilford Education Alliance Laptop Project, which raised enough money to purchase 8,800 laptops for students in Guilford County Schools.
